FOR RETAILING THE ARDENT.

CHARGED WITH RUNNING TIGERS

Eight Persons Have Been Served With Papers Charging Them With Dispensing Fire Water--Appear Before the Mayor This Afternoon.

The police officers always have their eyes on suspected blind tigers, and usually just before every term of Superior Court a number of persons are arrested on charges of retailing illegally. The following have been cited to appear before the mayor this afternoon to answer for this offense:

J. H. West, W. F. Clegg and M. T. Edgerton, and Henry Patillo, Burrell Harbor, Green Morehead, John Wharton and Mack Gilmer. The last five are negroes.

Henry Patillo is the night watchman at the McAdoo House and John Wharton is a servant at the Elite. Barrell Harbor and Greene Moorehead have been doing business on the quiet in a house on Col. J. T. Morehead's lot, while Mack Gilmer has confined his operations to Warnersville. It is said that he sold liquor of a particularly bad quality—so bad in fact that he should go to the penitentiary for the offense.

WHOLESALE HYPNOTISM.

A Fakir Who Carried Off $800 From a Crowd That Was Looking Him in the Eye.

Clifton, W. Va., Dispatch, May 30th.

Yesterday was pay day at the mines, salt works and mills, and toward evening everybody had money. About 5:30 while most of the population was gathered about the postoffice waiting the distribution of the evening mail, a fine, big man, with flowing red mustache drove up in a light buggy, and announced that he was introducing Dr. Somebody's electric belt and would sell a few at $3.

No one bought, but the crowd moved toward him. Then he offered a few at $2 and later at $1. Then he would give a ten-dollar bill with the first sale. An old farmer made the purchase and got the bill. Then a five-dollar bill was the prize for the second purchaser. This went on down to $1 for the belt and $1 for the prize. By this time the crowd blocked the street. As each sale was made the prize was scattered to the crowd to scramble for. Soon McRath — Morris McRath was the name under which he took license—had the crowd in a frenzy. He asked who would give a dime to throw to the crowd. He got a dozen. Then he asked for quarters, then half-dollars, getting a handful. All the time he kept up a monotonous sing-song, urging everybody to look him in the eye. Finally he called for eyerybody to give him all the money they had in their pockets. Dozens reached down and for a few minutes he could hardly accommodate the rush of givers. He got all kinds of money and had a satchel full of it. Just as everybody expected the final distribution. McRath touched up his team and was out of town going at a gallop before any one thought to interfere. McRath carried away not less than $800, one merchant giving up $70 he had brought to the postoffce to deposit in the safe over Sunday.

It was clearly a plain case of hypnotism and every one agrees that McRath had eyes that could not be withstood. His constant demand of the crowd was, "Look me in the eye, now, look me in the eye. You know the eye tells whether a man is honest or not."

QUESTION OF ALL QUESTIONS.

THE AMENDMENT--NOT DISPENSARY.

How Would a Democratic Nominee Feel When Asked by His Opponent Why the Negro Was Not Good Enough to Vote in 1902 if He Was Good Enough to Vote in 1901--Let Him Say, "I, Your Servant, Will Do the Bidding of the White People of Guilford."

To the Editor of the Telegram:

We understand a circular containing a resolution to be offered in the approaching Democratic convention is being industriously circulated over the county and Democrats are asked to endorse the same. The resolution is substantially as follows:

That the Democratic representatives, if elected, are instructed to secure the passage of a law providing that the continuance or repeal of the dispensary in Greensboro be voted on by the qualified voters of the county at an election to be held in February, 1901, and if the majority favor continuance then it is to be continued, but if the majority is in favor of its repeal, the representatives are pledged to secure its repeal.

The ostensible purpose of this plan is to promote harmony and eliminate this question from discussion in the county canvass.

On its face it would seem to be the right thing to do. By all means let's have harmony, and eliminate from the canvass any question that may cause disaffection among fellow Democrats. But will that plan bring about the much desired result?

We take it that with all true Democrats the question paramount to all others is the constitutional amendment, which proposes to disfranchise perhaps 80 per cent. of the negro voters in the State. It is admitted by a large majority of Republicans, outside of the pie hunters, both North and South, that the enfranchisement of the negro was the colossal blunder of the century. The remedy for this admitted blunder is to disqualify the ignorant, illiterate class of negroes who, as a matter of fact, were never qualified to exercise this high privilege.

When the amendment has been carried in August—and it will be done, then who will constitute the qualified voters of this county in 1902? Plainly every white man who now votes or who may register before 1908, whether he can read and write or not, and as long as he lives, together with all negroes who can read and write. After 1908 all young white voters who were not old enough to register and vote before 1908 will be required to read and write as a qualification for voting, but they will have ample time to qualify themselves before that time. But who will be allowed to vote in February 1901 on this question of dispensary or no dispensary? Why the same class of voters who will vote in August. As Democrats we shall declare by our votes for the amendment, that four-fifths of the negroes, perhaps 1500 in this county are intellectually and morally disqualified to vote on any question and more especially on a moral one. If they are qualified intellectually to vote, then why should we disfranchise them? If they are not fitted to exercise the franchise, why give them a chance to vote on this question in 1901 which is purely one of morals? In what position would a Democratic nominee for the house or senate be placed, if gravely asked by his opponent, "How can you allow one ignorant negro to vote on this question of dispensary or no dispensary in 1901 when you expect to vote for his disfranchisement in August next to take effect in 1902. If they are fit to vote in 1901 are not they fit to vote in 1902?" We are curious to know what answer he could make. It would not do to say the poor negro was not legally qualified, but his vote was needed to repeal the dispensary act. It won't do to blow hot and then blow cold on the amendment. The ignorant negro is either fit to vote or he is not.

Now suppose we have this vexing queston of dispensary or no dispensary decided at a primary held at the August election, to be voted on by the white folks of Guilford county, irrespective of party affiliations? It could be required of the Democratic nominees that if the majority of the votes cast were for the dispensary, then it is to continue; if against the dispensary, then our nominees, if elected, are to be pledged to carry out the wishes of the white voters of Guilford and repeal the dispensary act.

If this is done there will be no false position, no contradiction, no absurdity. Our nominees can be consistent in voting for the amendment and will be bound by the result of the primary when held. If asked what he will do in the Legislature on the dispensary question, he can reply, "I shall do just what you white voters of Guilford county direct me to do by your own votes at the primary. If you want the dispeneary law repealed, say so; if continued, say so, and I, your servant, will obey your instructions."

It may be that the majority of the white people of this county are against the dispensary. If so, let the dispensary go. This quest on will have been eliminated from diecussion and should produce practical harmony among Democrats. After all the question of all other questions is the amendment and not the dispensary.

OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

General John B. Gordon, General Commanding and Department Cammander General Wade Hampton.

Louisville, May 31—All the officers of the United Confederate Veterans were re-elected this afternoon by acclamation. The list is as follows: General John B. Gordon, general commanding; Lieutenant General Wade Hampton, Army of Northern Virginia, department commander; General S. D. Lee, commanding the Tennessee department; General W. L. Cabell, commanding Trans-Mississippi department.

During the afternoon General J. J. Horner, of Arkansas, came to the front of the speaker's stand and, addressing General Gordon, who was presiding, said: "I move, Mr. Chairman, that we now proceed to the election of officers for the ensuing year."

"Second the motion!" came from a dozen different directions at once Without noticing the interruption, General Horner went on: "And I further move that the elections be made by acclamation. All those in favor of the motion will signify it by saying 'aye.'" There came a fierce chorus of 'ayes.' "Those opposed will signify it by saying 'no,'" said General Horner. There were no negative votes, however, and there was no need to announce the result.

DEFIANT BOER TALK.

The Struggle Will Not be Abandoned Until Liberty is Gained.

Boston, May 31—"Even if the whole country is taken and the leaders imprisoned, the war will cease only for a time, and it will be renewed again and again, if need be, until we get our liberty," was the dramatic utterance of M. A. Fischer, one of the Boer envoys, when he was shown the bulletin from London announcing the impending surrender of Pretoria.

Mr. Fischer declared that at the time of his departure from Pretoria, three months ago, there were two plans of action which had been determined upon in the event of the approach of the British to Pretoria. One was to concentrate all the Boer forces inside the city and leave the rest of the country open to the British until the fall of the city. The other was to evacuate Pretoria, after a slight show of resistance, to enable supplies to be collected, and then the army was to scatter into the mountains and enter upon a guerilla warfare, which would continue till the last man was killed.

Mr. Cone Will Contribute.

After reading Mr. J. Van Lindley's card in reference to the proposed fruit fair, Mr. Ceasar Cone, president of the Proximinity Manufacturing Company, immediately subscribed $10 towards defraying the expenses of the fair. It is believed that other business men will take an interest in this matter and that the necessary funds will be forthcoming.

Six Yale juniors have engaged in a novel calling. Several of the undertakers of New Haven are trying the experience of hiring pall-bearers from the young men of the city, and half a dozen of the Yale junior's have hired themselves in that capacity.

KRUGER NOW LOCATED AGAIN.

SCATTERED BURGHERS MAY FIGHT.

They Seem to be Awaiting the Arrival of the British Troops Marching From Johannesburg to Pretoria—Preparations in England to Celebrate Came to Nought.

By Wire to the Telegram

London, June 1.—Pretoria is evidently simply waiting for the arrival of the British. It is thought that scattered bands of armed Burghers may rally at various points and skirmishes may interrupt the march of the British troops from Johannesburg to Pretoria, but there is no idea here that will be further serious resistance to Roberts. The Boer capital is now reported from Lorenzo Marquez to be Middleburg, and it is now thought that Kruger is there.

BOERS SURRENDERING.

New Castle, June 1.—There is a general dispersal of the Boers in this district. A large number of the burghers are surrendering daily. Trustworthy reports say that Boers are totally demoralized.

PREPARED TO CELEBRATE TOO SOON.

London, May 31.—Lord Roberts' latest dispatches shed a somewhat different light on the military situation. Before they were received celebrations were organized in the country towns in honor of the fall of Pretoria. In Chester a public holiday was declared, while at Dover, Portsmouth and many other places, flags were flown and rejoicings were general. Pretoria, however, is not yet in the hands of the British, though there is no reason to doubt the authenticity of the report that Kruger has evacuated the place and that the municipality is ready to surrender when confronted by superior numbers.

Though the British seem certain to reach Pretoria in a day or so, they are not likely to occupy it without fighting. Lord Roberts' forces will be placed to the south, west and north of Johannesburg. These units will probably be reconcentrated while General French makes an advance.

Pretoria should be reached by June 2, opposition or no opposition. General Brabant's loss of 40 men is striking evidence that the annexation of the Free State by no means implies its pacification. So thoroughly is the country here imbued with the belief that Pretoria has fallen that Mr. Jos. Chamberlain, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, speaking today at a meeting of the University of Birmingham, proposed a message to the Queen, congratulatating her on the capture of Johannesburg and Pretoria. which was sent to the afternoon newspapers.

KRUGER REPORTED DEAD.

A belated dispatch from Kromstadt dated Tuesday says that Kruger is very ill, and that the station master at that place says the President is dead. The report is not believed.

TO BE IN PRETORIA TOMORROW.

London, June 1.—It is believed that Roberts has started for Pretoria. Military critics agree that resistance will not be strong enough to delay the occupation of Pretoria longer than tomorrow. Once there recuperation of forces will take place, while flying columns will be sent out in all directions to stamp out opposition and reduce garrisons and occupy important points.

Crime of a Negro Fiend.

Fayetteville, May 31.—Yesterday, while Mrs. James West, living in Flea Hill township, in this county, about eighteen miles from this city, was engaged on some household task in the yard around the house, she was attacked by a negro, who, after choking her into insensibility, accomplished his purpose. Her screams and struggles were of no avail, as her husband and farm hands were at work in a distant field. The negro is described as young and well dressed. Officers and a posse are hunting the fiend.

"Next week," announces a Missouri editor, who has the Sheldon episode still fresh in his mind, "we will be running this paper as Jesse James would have run it. Delinquent subscribers may expect a call from us with their accounts stuck in the muzzle of a six-shooter. Otherwise this paper will have to be run as the sheriff would run it."

THE NAVY BILL MAY FAIL.

MIGHT NOT GO THROUGH CONGRESS.

Washington Correspondents Are Preparing for Conventions---Miss Pasco to be Married.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, June 1—There is some talk at the capitol that the naval appropriation bill may failto go through Congress. Of course, this would be a great misfortune to the navy department, but would not, it is said, cripple the department as much as might be supposed. There are instances heretofore, in which the naval appropriation bill has been held in Congress until final adjournment, being acted upon at the short session. The reason for the fear that the bill may not get through this year is owing to the differences manifested between the two questions on the armour plate and two other items, the conferees thus far having been unable to reconcile the manifest differences between the Senate and House on these amendments, the Armor plate amendment being the principal bone of contention. Already there has been one disagreeing report, and according to indications another will be presented to the two houses in a day or so.

At the Capitol the members on the committee on naval affairs, and the conferees on the part of both the Senate and House of Representatives, insist that there is not the slightest danger, however, but what the naval bill will go through before final adjournment, which isset for Wednesday next. The talk that the bill may fail for want of agreement between the two houses is not entertained by any of those most interested. If necessary, it is intimated that the house will finally recede from its disagreement to the amendment and allow it to go through. The only danger is that the lack of agreement may delay final adjournment of the two houses beyond the timenow fixed, June 6th.

The House committee on military affairs has reported a bill for the establishment of a branch soldiers' home at, or near, Denver, Arapahoe county, Colorado. The report was submitted to the House by Representative Hay, of Virginia, and the measure has been referred to the committee of the White House on the State of the Union for consideration. Unanimous consideration may be asked for its passage.

Invitations have been received in Washington to the coming marriage of Miss Emily Pasco, daughter of ex-Senator and Mrs. Pasco, of Florida. The groom-elect is Mr. George N. Washington correspondents are beginning to file their applications for press privileges at the Philadelphia and Kansas City conventions. As is usually the custom special trains will convey the Washington newspaper men to both conventions. A large number of the fraternity are expected to attend the two conventions, as it is expected Congress will have departed before even the first convention is held.

The vice-president of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company has recently returned from Europe, and as a result of his visit several trial orders of Alabama bar iron and steel will be shipped to the old world. Hitherto only raw pig iron has been exported, but European consumers have now been induced to make a test of finished ore and steel bars from the Birmingham district, and twenty tons of steel and one hundred tons of bar iron will soon be exported. Alabama producers believe that a trial of these products is all that is necessary to build up a permanent trade in them abroad.

Battery Place.

Battery place is the traditional spot where, on May 6, 1626, the Indian owners of Manhattan bartered it to the Dutch for baubles worth 60 guilders.

As early as 1693, there being a war with the French, "a platform upon the outmost point of rocks under the fort" was designated as a suitable place for a battery, and the council was called upon by Governor Fletcher to furnish "86 cords of stockades, 12 feet in length, for the purpose of building same."

In 1735 a really imposing battery, with a no less imposing title, "The George Augustus Royal battery," was erected by Governor Cosby, and "The Battery" has remained on our city map ever since, associated though it has been with the pleasures of peace to a much greater extent than with the art or the practice of warfare.—New York Sun.

MR. WATTS GIVES $30,000.

Union Theological Seminary is the Lucky Institution to Receive It.

Charlotte News.

A North Carolinian has again made a noble gift to a noble cause—theology and education.

Mr. George Watts, of Durham, yesterday donated the princely sum of $30,000 to Union Theological Seminary, Richmond Va.

The board of trustee of the Seminary of which Dr. E. Nye Hutchison, of this city has been a member for years, met yesterday in Richmond. Mr. Watts, who is also a member of the board, was present. His handsome gift to the Seminary was a surprise to the board.

Mr. Watts made the board acquainted with his intention in his own unpretentious way. The effect was electrical. The trustees felt inspired to fresh activity and zeal. Business was transacted easily and with dispatch. Dr. Hutchison says the meeting was the most delightful and harmonious held in years. The wisdom of removal of the Seminary to a city is already shown by the fact that the matriculation is greater than at all other Seminaries of the Presbyterian church in the South.

Mr. Watts' magnificent gift is an additional impetus to the institution, and another evidence of his philanthropy.

A TREMENDOUS POSSE.

Sheriff Calls Out 2,500 Men to Maintain the Peace in St. Louis.

St. Louis Dispatch, May 31.

Public interest in the strike situation centers for the time being in yesterday's order to the police commissioners on the sheriff of St. Louis to swear in 1,000 special deputies, and in their order of today ordering the swearing in of 1,500 additional men, making 2,500 in all, for the purpose of preserving peace and order. To a certain extent these orders have created consternation among men in all walks of life, as is evidenced by Sheriff Pohlmann's statement that an epidemic of sickness had suddenly broken out in the city since the draft of the posse began. Nearly every man of any position, the sheriff says, who has been summoned to serve in the posse, is scurrying about to get a physician's certificate that he is suffering from some chronic disease which unfits him for duty.

Many of those who remonstrated with the sheriff this morning were veterans of several wars. They complained that they had already served their country and thought it an imposition to place them in the posse. A number of prominent citizens were summoned to serve in the posse, including lawyers, preachers and business men. No male citizen between the age of 21 and 65 is exempted unless engaged in police or military service or physically disability be proven. Sheriff Pohlmann reported that the work of recruiting the first thousand men was progressing rapidly and he believed he would have no trouble in gathering the full quota of 2,500.

MEN with small feet can find something to fit them in our new line of Vici Kid, Box Calf and plain American calf skin shoes. Sizes 4, 4½, 5, 5½ and 6 in all the above leathers, and also in tan vici, and tan Russia calf.

THACKER & BROCKMANN.

MADDENED ELEPHANTS.

The Great Brutes Often Driven Wild by Fearful Tusk Aches.

"Zanzibar," said Robert Crawford, "is the greatest market for South African ivory, which is brought there in large quantities from the interior. This ivory is placed in large warehouses from which it is either sold at once or else held therein for a better market. The man in charge of these warehouses was a very interesting character, an expert in ivory. He told me many curious things about it and among others propounded the following theory as an explanation of why elephants go mad and occasionally run amuck.

"In the warehouse were a pair of magnificent tusks, measuring fully 14 feet from tip to tip, which in life must have been carried by a veritable Goliah among elephants. The expert in showing me these tusks pointed out the fact that while one was complete and flawless the other was broken off at the point and showed deep scratches and abrasions throughout its length.

"'Now,' said he, 'if you will look near the base you will find a hole made by decay that had struck into the nerves and given that elephant a toothache. And think what a toothache of toothaches a 14 foot tooth must have held. In his effort to relieve this pain the elephant rubbed his tusk against rocks and trees and drove it into the earth, which mutilated it in the manner you see here. I have frequently come across places where an elephant has ripped up great spaces in the forest and torn down the trees, and I am positive that toothache was the cause of this frenzy.

"'An elephant in a circus going suddenly mad and killing his keeper is not an uncommon thing, but I'll wager that in nine cases out of ten if they would properly investigate the matter they would find that the brute's sudden frenzy sprung from so ordinary a cause as common, everyday toothache.'"—Exchange.

A TRIUMPH OF SURGERY.

The Case of a Man Who Swallowed His Suspenders.

A case recorded in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal by Dr. M. H. Richardson is a remarkable example of the extraordinary feats in swallowing foreign bodies sometimes performed by men.

A man, aged 29 years, was admitted to the hospital. He said that two weeks previously, while he was in a despondent state, he had endeavored to swallow his suspenders and had succeeded in getting down certain portions, but how much he had swallowed he could not tell. He did not complain of pain, but rather of discomfort under the breast while eating. The food at times passed easily into the stomach. At other times it was regurgitated immediately. Nothing could be seen in the throat. With a probe some obstruction was felt.

A skiagram showed a suspender buckle at the middle of the chest and possibly another higher up. As the chief danger in esophageal impaction is from ulceration into the great vessels, especially when the foreign body has sharp edges, and as fatal erosion usually takes place in two weeks or less, it was concluded that if there was any erosion it was sufficiently advanced to make even the most careful manipulation dangerous. The problem was how to perform extraction without producing fatal hemorrhage.

The throat was opened, and with a pair of forceps, a string attached to a brass ring and then half a suspender with two buckles and finally a third buckle were removed. A probang was passed into the stomach without meeting with further obstruction.

The wound was closed with silk sutures, and recovery ensued.

"The doctor said I must not ride. In fact I could not ride."

"This is to certify that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best blood-purifier that I ever used," writes Mrs. M. Hartrick, of Demster, Oswego, Co., N. Y. "It is about three years since my health began to fail. Last September I gave out entirely with what the physicians pronounced enlargement of the liver. Could not do anything; my back pained me all the time; the doctor said I must not ride, in fact I could not ride nor walk, nor hardly sit still; could not lie on my right side. I commenced taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets'—took them for three months, and still continue the 'Pellets.' I will be glad if I can say anything to help those who are suffering. You can publish this letter if you think best."

If Mrs. Hartrick had begun the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when her "health began to fail," she would have saved that three years of increasing misery, until she "gave out entirely." For diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition there is no known remedy to compare with "Golden Medical Discovery." It reaches the heart, liver and lungs through the stomach and the blood and its cures are prompt and permanent. Nothing else will give such good results.

There is no alcohol or opium or other narcotic contained in "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" as this remedy. Don't experiment on yourself with substitutes.

OWNER AND OPERATIVE IN THE SOUTH.

A gentleman recently returning from a trip in various sections of the State remarked that cotton mill owners all about are discussing the relations of employer and employee, and are asking themselves, many of them, how can the relations between the two be kept amicable as they have been heretofore, and how owners shall meet the new conditions that are fast arising as a result of the introduction of labor organizations into the South. And the only reassuring thing was that owners, at least many of them, appeared to be desirous of arranging things with a just sense of what is their own duty, and with a desire to treat their help as men and brothers. This is hopeful. We can imagine nothing more disastrous and disheartening than the absence of this spirit.

Just as sure as cotton mills continue to run in the South so sure are there to be labor organizations and consequent friction, unless a wise policy prevails. The wonder is that they have not come sooner. Their absence has been an asset of the Southern mill owner; it will not be much longer. It is not reasonable that while labor is completely organized in other sections of the country, it should remain unorganized here. We have been surprised at the extent of the organization at present existing. Of course it will be a long time before the organization reaches the effectiveness here that is maintained in other sections. Nevertheless, mill owners will soon have to reckon with organizations rather than individuals.

The present time, just when the organizations are taking place, is very critical—critical both for owners and operatives. There is danger for the laboring men, exceeding great danger that in their new experience and zeal they may go too far, get an erroneous idea of what should be the true object of organization, and thus lay the foundation for interminable friction. There is like danger to owners; and there is the further danger that they will refuse to see the inevitable and deal with it as such, or that by trying to stave it off unnecessarily, exasperate labor. Another danger to labor is its leadership; another to capital, a disposition to magnify its own importance; to both there is the common danger of arbitrary and unreasonable demands.

It is a happy omen that here and there in North Carolina are notable examples of owners and men who are attempting to meet and solve the problems that arise, in a spirit of Christian and brotherly kindness; trying to find where their common interests can be served and to harmonize their apparently conflicting interests. We are glad of this. Enough such may be found to leaven the lump. The feeling in mills in the South between owner and workmen has heretofore been more like the old time friendship, almost companionship, that existed on the farms between landlord and tenant than anything else; the operative has felt a pride and an interest is his employer's property, almost a feeling of common ownership. May such continue, and the hastening supremacy of the South in manufacturing will even come sooner than predicted. May wisdom and forbearance prevail.

We most respectfully draw the attention of those Democratic papers who have been so loudly lauding Senator Hoar on his late utterance regarding expansion to the assertion made yesterday by him that he would reintroduce the force bill in order to investigate election methods in the South, and determine whether the fourteenth amendment was being violated. There's your genuine, old-time Massachusetts spirit. However, Senator Hoar is consistent. He doesn't believe in white supremacy in the Philippines nor in the South either, while the above-mentioned papers believe in it in the South, but not in the Philippines.

A Pleasant Evening.

A few young people enjoyed a very pleasant informal social at the home of Prof. J. M. Bandy last night. Delicious refreshments, consisting of ices, cakes, etc., were served. In addition to the Misses Bandy, the following were present:

Messrs. Dolph Moose, Harry Donnell, Roscoe Ward, Henry Boyles, Harry Carter and Wade Leonard, and Misses Linnie Ward, Laura Gibson, Gertrude McIntosh and Ruby McIntosh.

For Working on the Sabbath.

Another man has run up against trouble on account of his peculiar religious belief. B. F. Barefoot, who resides in South Greensboro, is a Seventh Day Adventist and observes Saturday instead of Sunday. Last Saturday he rested faithfully, as is his custom, and Sunday found him at work. He has been arrested and cited to appear before Mayor Taylor this afternoon, when he will be given a hearing.

Judge Cantrill yesterday directed Circuit Clerk Ford to issue a bench warrant for the arrest of former Governor Taylor. The warrant is based on an indictment secured several weeks ago charging Taylor with being an accessory to the assassination of William Goebel. A warrant was issued and placed in the hand of Deputy Sheriff John Star.

A Recommendation.

The Big Boss—Say, look here. I can't recommend that man for a place on the police force. He has been fined for wife-beating, I find out.

"No."

Strategy.

"What is in that box you are so careful about, if I may ask?" inquired the man who had secured the lower berth in the sleeper.

"That's a collection of rare snakes I am taking to a museum. They are too valuable to be trusted out of my sight," replied the man, who was preparing to climb to the upper shelf.

"Say, I'll trade berths with you."

"All right. I'm not particular where I sleep."—Chicago Tribune.

No Cause to Worry.

"I suppose," he said, as they undulated around the hall, "that my mother would be awfully worried if she knew I was here. She's very religious and thinks it is a terrible sin to dance."

"Oh, never mind," the girl said. "She wouldn't know you were dancing, even if she saw you."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Refused to Correct It.

Morrell—This life is getting to be a constant rush. Even death seems to come quicker than it used to.

Wytte—True. There's the interesting case of a man I knew; buried one day and died the next.

Morrell—Got that twisted, haven't you?

Wytte—No. This man was an undertaker.—Philadelphia Press.

The Cheerful Idiot.

"Who was the sporty guy I saw you talking to?" asked the shoe clerk boarder.

"One of our most noted ethnologists," replied the Cheerful Idiot.

"Him?"

"Yes. He writes books on the races."—Indianapolis Press.

Where His Was.

"Say," said little Freddie to Mr. Murgleson; "do you know what?"

"No; what?"

A Well Merited Retort.

Ex-Assistant United States District Attorney Sutherland Tenney of New York was graduated from the Columbia Law school in 1875, when he carried off the first prize of $500. A disappointed competitor congratulated him and added:

"I suppose it was because your thesis was illegible, as usual, and the judges gave you the benefit of the doubt."

Mr. Tenney, unruffled, replied, "How much better you would do if you adopted that practice in all your work!"—Saturday Evening Post.

The Two Sides.

THE HOSPITAL DOCTOR.

Why He Did Not Visit the Patient Who Was Dying.

Hospital doctors were under discussion. Every man in the party had had hospital experience at some time or another, and each had a good word for his particular doctor when the disordant man came in. "I tell you what it is," said he; "there are some mighty cold blooded men among them. I was in one of the big hospitals not long ago, visiting a doctor friend of mine. It was night and there was not much going on. There were four or five doctors besides my friend around, and some one suggested a game of poker.

"We hadn't been playing long when a nurse knocked at the door and said, 'Doctor, I think the patient in No. 8 is dying; won't you come down?' 'Yes, right away,' said the doctor. 'I'll draw three cards.' He filled his hand and played it, and he kept right on playing for about 15 minutes, when there came another knock at the door and the nurse said: 'Really, doctor, that man's condition is very serious. I know he's dying; won't you come?' The doctor said: 'Yes, yes; oh, I forgot. I'll be there in just a minute—I'll raise you a quarter, doc.'

"Well, he played that hand out and the next one, and then he said he guessed he'd go see the patient. The nurse met him half way down the stairs and told him the man was dead. Now, what do you think of that?"

"Well, they get hardened, they see so much suffering," said one of the party apologetically.

"If he'd gone when he was first called, he probably couldn't have done anything to save the man's life," said the second.

"Yes," said the discordant man, "but just as a matter of form he might have quit after he filled that first hand."

"He might," assented all the party. "But the man was going to die anyway."—New York Sun.

A QUEER OCCUPATION.

Gathering the Down of Cattails In the Jersey Meadows.

One of the queerest industries has grown up on the Hackensack meadows, an otherwise apparently useless bog upon which it is unsafe for man or beast to venture. In the summer certain parts of the meadows are covered with a dense growth of cattails. They grow particularly rank and large. Sometimes the tail, or furry part, is a foot or more long and thick in proportion. The light, furry down is long and soft, bearing a close resemblance to down when first taken from the stalk.

Certain people always more or less quick to see the advantages of a waste product have begun gathering the seed down from cattails and are making it a considerable business. Just before the ice is gone in the spring is the time selected. Provided with a large sack in which to store the feathery products, the gatherer goes about among the tall flags, pulls off the down, deposits it in his sack and takes it home. It is not a particularly pleasant piece of work, because the little bits of down fly all over one, getting in the eyes, the nose, the mouth and ears, and completely cover one's clothing. But it furnishes work, and men and women do it.

It is taken from the sack, carefully spread where it will dry thoroughly, and it is then ready to be used in pillows or wherever else genuine animal down is advisable. It doesn't last long, because its fibers lack elasticity, but for a time the pillow will be as soft as any.

Those who gather it make reasonably fair pay at it, though hardly enough when the danger and the disagreeable character of the work are considered.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Cat Catcher.

The dog catcher is not the only person in the city who is sincerely hated by both man and animal. There is a cat catcher as well, and he comes in for his full share of antipathy. He makes a living at the business, and a very good one, it is said. Few are aware of the fact that pussy's fur is a very desirable article of commerce. There are any number of dealers in this city who are glad to pay all the way from 50 cents to $1 for a cat's skin, according to size and quality. The method of catching the unsuspecting cat is a particularly mean one. It is a well established fact that cats are very fond of catnip and will troop after a man who carries a bundle of it. This greed leads to the undoing of pussy, who will come to a stand if a bit of the herb is thrown on the ground and is thus made an easy prey. A bag and a chloroformed sponge do the rest, and many a household pet, the disappearance of which caused sorrow, can be accounted for in this way.—Philadelphia Press.

TAKING THE CENSUS.

Supervisor Steele says 26 days Will Be Allowed---Manufacturing Industries to be Taken by a Special Agent.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

I see in today's issue of your paper a piece in regard to the census, which is a mistake. Will you plese correct it thus: Winston being the only city in the 6th Supervisor's District, comprising ten counties, that had 8,000 inhabitants and over in 1890 the law requires enumerators to enumerate Winston in twelvedays. Inevery other township and city in my district, the enumerators are allowed 26 days to complete their work. The manufacturing industries of Greensboro will be taken by a special agent. Will you please insert this and oblige, as your piece in the paper is misleading.

Yours truly,
W. B. STEELE,
Supervisor for 6th N. C. Dist.

A CATHEDRAL.

The minster's mystic walls uprear
In time's rich hues against the sky;
Fair sentinels that year by year
Have watched slow centuries go by.

Within such perfect calm doth reign
As by no word may be exprest;
For, though without men war with pain,
Here weary souls awhile may rest;

And, resting, gather strength anew
Mid dim memorials of the past;
The faith our fathers held holds true
O'er diverse ways love's light to cast.

HAVE EYES AND SEE NOT.

Everyday Matters That Some People Seem Never to Notice.

"Can you tell me if collections of the mail are made today?" asked an elderly man of a young man in a Pennsylvania avenue news store last Sunday.

"Yes; there are several collections made in this city on Sunday," was the answer.

"Do you know the hour?"

"My friend, in front of this store is a mail box, and on the front of it is to be found a card with the hours of daily collection neatly tabulated. Examine it."

"Thanks."

"This is an example why some of the old men are pushed to the wall in the struggle for life and why it is not always the old practitioner who is the best," said the young man. "For a man of apparently 70 to ask in the city of Washington such a question as that gentleman just addressed to me is little short of criminal and well exemplifies how woefully deficient some people are with reference to matters of common knowledge which ought to be in the possession of every schoolboy at the age of 10.

"There are certain wrinkles of metropolitan life that some people seem never to grasp. The running leeway of the street cars, their termini, the streets through which they pass and the districts they tap, the running time between Washington and the principal cities of the railroads, a thorough knowledge of the environments of the city, the major questions of the mail service and a thousand and one matters which, if not directly acquired by learning should be by absorption, ought to be at the finger tips of every person who enjoys the privilege of metropolitan life."—Washington Star.

Many a refusal to sit for a picture has been given because of a knowledge of advancing years and fading beauty. It remains for the Devonshire folk, however, to give a new point on "making up" for a sitting. S. Baring-Gould's "Book of the West" supplies the incident.

The looks of Devonshire and Cornish lassies are proverbial. A complexion of peaches and cream, a well proportioned body and well molded features are the characteristics. West country women, as they are called, cannot forget they were once comely.

A woman of 75 years was brought forward to be photographed by an amateur. No words of address could induce her to speak until the operation was completed. Then she put her fingers into her mouth.

She said: "You wouldn't ha' me took wi' my cheeks falled in? I just stuffed The Western Mornin News into my mouth to fill 'n out."

Lady Betty.

In prerevolutionary days there was a woman public executioner in Virginia. At that time death sentences were respited on condition that a criminal should perform this office.

"Lady Betty," as she was afterward called, was sentenced to death for murder. She offered instead to become public executioner and held this office for many years.

It is said that on the scaffold she officiated without a mask.—Chicago Times-Herald.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of siatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

CANCER Cannot be Cut Out or Removed with Plasters

Surgical operations and flesh destroying plasters are useless, painful and dangerous, and besides, never cure Cancer.

No matter how often a cancerous sore is removed, another comes at or near the same point, and always in a worse form. Does not this prove conclusively that Cancer is a blood disease, and that it is folly to attempt to cure this deep-seated, dangerous blood trouble by cutting or burning out the sore, which, after all, is only an outward sign of the disease—a place of exit for the poison?

Cancer runs in families through many generations, and those whose ancestors have been afflicted with it are liable at any time to be stricken with the deadly malady.

Only Blood Diseases can be Transmitted from One Generation to Another

—further proof that Cancer is a disease of the blood.

To cure a blood disease like this you must cure the entire blood system—remove every trace of the poison. Nothing cures Cancer effectually and permanently but S. S. S.

S. S. S. enters the circulation, searches out and removes all taint, and stops the formation of cancerous cells. No mere tonic or ordinary blood medicine can do this. S. S. S. goes down to the very roots of the disease, and forces out the deadly poison, allowing the sore to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. at the same time purifies the blood and builds up the general health.

A little pimple, a harmless looking wart or mole, a lump in the breast, a cut or bruise that refuses to heal under ordinary treatment, should all be looked upon with suspicion, as this is often the beginning of a bad form of cancer.

Mrs. Sarah M. Keesling, 941 Windsor Ave., Bristol, Tenn., writes: "I am 41 years old, and for three years had suffered with a severe form of Cancer on my jaw, which the doctors in this city said was incurable, and that I could not live more than six months. I accepted their statement as true, and had given up all hope of ever being well again, when my druggist, knowing of my condition, recommended S. S. S. After taking a few bottles the sore began to heal, much to the surprise of the physicians, and in a short time made a complete cure. I have gained in flesh, my appetite is splendid, sleep is refreshing—in fact, am enjoying perfect health."

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 23.
I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.
Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

ZEB'S WIFE KNEW THAT SOMETHING WOULD HAPPEN.

The Possum Hunter Tells How He Came to Have a Lively Bear For a Bedfellow and the Result It Had on Certain Opinions of His.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

"One mawnin at the breakfast table," said the old possum hunter as I asked him for a yarn, "me an the old woman got into a jaw 'bout coons. I held to it that all coons orter hev bin bobtailed, an she contended that the Lawd made 'em as he wanted 'em an did a good job. We wasn't mad at fust, but the mo' we talked the meaner we felt, an bimeby we got downright ugly. It was Sunday mawnin, an we was goin off to preachin that day, but when I got my mad up I said:

"'As long as I'm fur bobtailed coons an the Lawd didn't make 'em that way it ain't no use fur me to hear preachin. I'll stay home, an yo' kin go alone.'

"I reckoned that would cool her off a bit, but it didn't. She chawed away at her bacon fur awhile an then said:

"'Zeb White, thar's bound to be a calamity around this cabin. Can't nobody find fault the way yo' do without sunthin happenin. I'm goin right along to preachin, an if yo' want to fly in the face of Providence yo' must take the consequences.'

"'I'm contendin fur bobtailed coons,' said I. 'If all coons was bobtailed, they'd look a heap purtier an git along a heap better.'

"'But how kin they be when it's all fixed?'

"'Dunno, but I'm contendin.'

"'Then yo' keep on contendin an see how yo'll come out. Thar's bobtailed varmints in the mountings, an mebbe yo'll git 'nuff of them befo' yo' git through abusin Providence.'

"If she'd coaxed me a bit, I'd hev gone with her," explained Zeb, "but she'd said all she meant to. When she got ready, she started off through the woods an never even looked at me. My rifle was out of order, an my old dawg had run away, an so I couldn't go strollin through the woods. I sot down on the doahstep an smoked a pipe or two, an as it was a warm day I begun to feel sleepy. I went over an tumbled on to the bed, an it wasn't five minits befo' I was sound asleep. The doah was left wide open, an 'bout the last thing I heard befo' I drapped off was the old mewl brayin in the stable. I'd bin asleep an hour when sunthin crowded me over ag'in the wall, an I woke up. I opened my eyes to find a big b'ar on the bed with me. He'd found the doah open an walked in, an, seein me asleep, he sot out to hev some fun. He didn't see me open my eyes, an I took keer to shet 'em ag'in arter one look. Befo' the Lawd, but I was skeered! I felt the cold chills creepin up an down my back, an the sweat busted out on me as if I was choppin at a big tree.

"I had found fault with the Lawd fur not makin bobtailed coons," continued the old man as he refilled his pipe, "an a bobtailed b'ar had bin sent in revenge. It wasn't no use to think of jumpin up or fightin him. He had all the advantage, an if I made him mad he'd finish me up in a minit. My game was to play possum on him, but I hope I shall never hev sich another two hours while I live. That b'ar wanted a good time. He was feelin good natured, an he jest tried all sorts of circus tricks with me. He'd roll me over ag'in the wall with a bang, an then arter a chuckle he'd roll me back with a flop. He didn't bite at all, but every time he put his claws on to me they went through the cloth. I believe that varmint turned me over 50 times befo' he got a little tired of it. I was playin dead all the time an didn't know what minit he'd git mad an set out to finish me. He finally got thirsty an jumped off the bed an went to the water pail on the bench an lapped away fur ten minits. I had my eyes open all the time an was anxious to git away, but I was afeared of him. I couldn't fight him barehanded an stand any show.

"I jest laid thar till the varmint had quenched his thirst an looked around, an then he come back ag'in. The circus was only half over. He was so rough at times that I almost yelled out with the pain, an between the clawin an the skeer I wasn't much better than a dead man. The mewl smelt of b'ar an kept up a tremendous brayin, an the old woman heard the noise when she was yit a mile away. Bimeby, when the varmint had had a show with the price of admission, he settled down fur a rest. I was then lyin with my face to the wall, an he planted all four feet ag'in my back an kept up a sort of purrin. He had me crowded ag'in the cabin logs till I could hardly breathe, an I had made up my mind that I'd never tree another coon when the old woman got back from preachin. The old mewl was kickin an brayin, an she seen the tracks of the b'ar leadin into the cabin. She stood in the doah an got sight of the varmint on the bed, an she did a thing which no man on these yere Cumberland mountings would hev attempted. Thar was no gun at hand to shoot with, an her only show was to take that b'ar by surprise. That's what she did. She tiptoed up to the bed an fastened her fingers in his fur, an, though he was a hefty load, she carried him to the doah an dumped him out. I never knowed she was home till she pulled the b'ar away. As I riz up the astonished varmint was makin fur the woods, while the old woman hadn't even turned pale.

"'Was—was it a b'ar?' I asked as she took off her sunbonnet an began to clatter the stove.

"'Of co'se,' she keerlessly replied.

"'An what did yo' do with him?'

"'Jest dumped him outdoahs. 'Pears to me yo've bin hevin heaps of fun. Most of yo'r clothes hev bin clawed off, the bedquilts chawed to rags, an yo' ar' blood from head to heel. Mebbe yo' was learnin that b'ar a lot of tricks?'

"I tried to git out of bed to hug her an praise her spunk," explained Zeb to me, "but I was so weak that I fell down. She never let on to mind me, an I had to help myself up. Bimeby I got over to a cheer an dropped into it an asked:

"'Did yo' find the preachin, an was it good?'

"'Powerful good,' she answered, 'but it wasn't 'bout coons or b'ars. Anything wantin of me befo' I puts the kittle on?'

"'I'm wantin yo' to help me doctor up 'bout fo' hundred scratches, an I'm also wantin to be forgiven fur my remarks 'bout coons.'

"'How is it, Zeb?' she said as she turned on me. 'When the Lawd dun put a long tail on a coon, was it fur the likes of pore human critters to kick about it?'

"'Reckon not—not skassly.'

"'An how 'bout b'ars? Mebbe yo' find fault bekase the Lawd made 'em bobtailed?'

"'I haven't a word to say ag'in it.'

"'Jest goin to let the long tails an the bobtails ramble around as the Lawd made 'em to ramble?'

"'That's it.'

"'An goin to hear preachin when thar is preachin at the skulehouse?'

"'Fur suah.'

"'Then I'll warm up some coon's fat an grease yo'r hurts, an yo' jest let this be a powerful warnin to yo' not to find any mo' fault with the Lawd's way of doin things. It was fur him to put long tails on coons an foxes an bobtails on b'ars an wildcats, an yo' jest keep yo'r gab still 'bout it an reckon to consider that it was all fur the best.'"

A SPELLING TEST.

Here Are Some Tongue Twisters With Which to Grapple.

If you can spell every word correctly in the following rhymes—all legitimate expressions—you may consider yourself qualified to enter a spelling bee:

Stand up, ye spellers, now and spell—
Spell phenakistoscope and knell;
Or take some simple word as chilly
Or gauger or the garden lily.
To spell such words as syllogism
And lachrymose and synchronism
And Pentateuch and saccharine,
Apocrypha and celadine,
Jepnine and homeopathy,
Paralysis and chloroform,
Rhinoceros and pachyderm,
Metempsychosis, gherkins, basque,
Is certainly no easy task.
Kaleidoscope and Tennessee,
Kamtchatka and erysipelas
And etiquette and sassafras,
Infallible and ptyalism,
Allopathy and rheumatism
And cataclysm and beleaguer,
Twelfth, eighteenth, rendezvous, intriguer,
And hosts of other words all found
On English and on classic ground;
Thus Bering strait and Michaelmas,
Thermopylæ, jalap, Havana,
Cinquefoil and ipecacuanha
And Rappahannock, Shenandoah
And Schuylkill and a thousand more
Are words some prime good spellers miss
In dictionary lands like this.
Nor need one think himself a scroyle
If some of these his efforts foil
Nor deem himself undone forever
To miss the name of either river,
The Dnieper, Seine or Guadalquivir.

His Toast.

Brown was very much in love with pretty Miss Simpson and had told her so repeatedly, but in vain. She did not reciprocate. Brown's friends knew of the affair, and whenever Brown gave a toast Miss Simpson was made the subject of it. "Come, Brown, your usual toast."

"No," came the reply. "Since I can't make her Brown I'll toast her no longer."—London Answers.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. CATARRH CAN BE CURED BY

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

"DANGER IN THE EARTH AND AIR; DANGER EVERYWHERE."

A Wise and Venerable Doctor Talks about Advanced Science.

In a leading hotel, in a great city, a famous and aged physician was conversing. Listening to his wise and sententious discourse, were a group of well dressed men, evidently lawyers, business men and commercial travelers.

My firm belief, is "that medical science is certain yet to show that all diseases without exception are caused by invisible germs which are living organisms. Here is the germ of that terrible disease diphtheria. Here is the bacillus of typhoid fever; and here is the still more dreadful bacillus of tubercle which causes that most destructive of all diseases, consumption. This of that very common and supposed incurable disease, catarrh."

"I wish, Doctor," said the traveling man, "that you would tell us about catarrh. I have had it for years, and I am thoroughly discouraged."

The Doctor answered. "Catarrh, like diphtheria, consumption, typhoid fever, and a host of other diseases, is the result of a microbe invading the blood and attacking specially the mucous membrane. This foul and most disgusting disease is especially prevalent in the United States and it is rare to meet one who is not, or has not been troubled more or less with it. How often is he or she obliged to remain at home from pleasant entertainments, deprive themselves of many intellectual treats, from fear of the disagreeable odor arising from catarrhal affections. In its worst phase, the patient becomes loathsome both to himself and his friends.

"I believe," continued this great physician, "that the true way to heal catarrh is to medicate the blood. This can be done only by powerful alteratives which act as blood purifiers."

Betsy A. Marett, of Manistee, Manistee Co., Mich., writes:

Dear Sirs:—For ten years I was a sufferer from general debility and chronic catarrh. My face was pale as death. I was weak and short of breath. I could hardly walk, I was so dizzy and had a ringing in my head all the time. My hands and feet were always cold. My appetite was very poor. On getting up in the morning, my head swam so I was often obliged to lie down again. I had awful pains in the small of my back. I had a continual feeling of tiredness. My muscular power was almost entirely gone, and I couldn't go half a dozen steps without stopping to rest, and often that much exercise caused me to have a pain in my side. It seemed as though the blood had left my veins. The doctors said my blood had all turned to water. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I tried the best physicians in the state, but failed to get any relief. My husband got me a bottle of Johnston's Sarsaparilla. I took it, and then I bought another. When these had been used, I was somewhat improved in health. I continued its use, and felt I was growing stronger; my sleep was refreshing, and it seemed as if I could feel new blood moving through my veins. I kept on taking it, and now consider myself a well and rugged woman. I work all the time, and am happy. I am positive that the Sarsaparilla saved my life. The sick headaches I have had since childhood, have disappeared, and my catarrh has almost entirely left me. I cannot be too thankful for what Johnston's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I recommend all women who have sick headaches to use your Sarsaparilla.

Don't Borrow.

Only the other day a Boston firm of sharks charged a man $5 for making out the mortgage on a loan of $10 and then charged him interest. A Lowell shark recently loaned a man $20 and charged him $3 for making out the mortgage, and every month he causes the man to sign a new mortgage and charges him $3 each time, besides the regular rate of interest, thus bringing the interest up to $100 per cent per annum. The several mortgages are not recorded since the first one, and every $3 the borrower pays goes into the lender's pocket.—Boston Traveler.
